Hosted by:

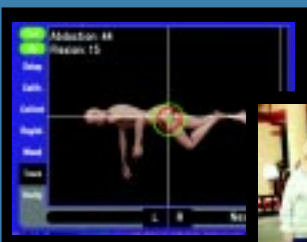

The Medical Robotics
Technology Center

The Biomedical
Engineering Department

EXPOSITION January 16-17, 2004

The premier event showcasing the region's medical devices and diagnostics technology, celebrating the innovative research that is being integrated into medicine and making an impact on our lives. It offers a glimpse into the future of healthcare through hands-on demonstrations. It catalyzes collaborative development and commercialization of cutting-edge biomedical technology.

SCHEDULE OF EVENTS

January 16, 2004
Industry Day

Sponsored by PLSG

Newell-Simon Hall, Carnegie Mellon
(by invitation)

Company representatives spend a day with Carnegie Mellon robotics and engineering faculty and representatives from Carnegie Mellon's Innovation Transfer Center to get an inside look at current and future research directions. Industry representatives will have the opportunity to present and discuss their technology needs, wants and directions.

January 17, 2004
Technology Fair Exhibition and Student Research Pavilion

University Center, Carnegie Mellon

10 a.m. - 3 p.m., 11 a.m. Program Speakers
(Free and open to the public)

Researchers, companies and students will showcase the latest cutting-edge technologies, products and services. There will be keynote addresses by some of our region's most prominent physicians and industry leaders. Don't miss this chance to network with research and medical professionals, organizations, and companies in the devices and diagnostic sector.
