Technical Specifications:

ALL PAGES WITHIN SITE ONLY CONTAIN CONSTANT ECONOMIST.COM HEADER AND FOOTERS – NO LEFT NAVIGATION. THERE ARE NO ADVERTISEMENTS; THIS IS A SPONSORED MICROSITE.

ALL PAGES ARE DESIGNED FOR FULL PAGE AT 1024x768 RESOLUTION.

Buttons are graphics not HTML and have a separate rollover state. Peter Lasell to provide separate graphics.

Global Callouts (Right Column):

Sponsorship opt-in radio buttons.

Note: Graphical elements, such as colors and button shapes, and pixel widths indicate functionality only and are not indicative of final branding choices.

NOTES

1 Opt-In Callout area. First time radio button begin in unselected state. Subsequent visit states depends on user status. If currently subscribed, radio button says Yes; if currently unsubscribed radio button says No. Continue button is a graphic and has a separate rollover state. Peter to provide.

The wireframe shows a page layout for Economist.com. At the top is a red header with the 'Economist.com' logo. Below the header is a navigation bar containing a search box, a dropdown menu set to 'Economist.com', and a 'Go' button. To the right of the search is a 'RESEARCH TOOLS' section with a dropdown menu and another 'Go' button. Further right are links for 'Subscribe NOW', 'EIU onlinestore', 'Subscribe', 'Activate', and 'Help'. Below the navigation bar is a date 'Monday February 12th 2007' and a login section with a red 'E' icon, a note '= requires subscription', and fields for 'LOG IN: E-mail address', 'Password', and a 'Remember me' checkbox with a 'Go' button. A 'Newsletters >' link is also present.

The main content area is a large rectangle with a diagonal line from the top-left to the bottom-right. It contains a 'Headline' and a '2-line Intro'. Below the intro is a block of 'Lorem dolor sequiat via. Lorem ipsum dolor sequiat via. Lorem ipsum dolor sequiat via. Lorem ipsum dolor sequiat via. Lorem ipsum dolor sequiat via. Lorem ipsum dolor sequiat via. Lorem ipsum dolor sequiat via. Lorem ipsum dolor sequiat via.' At the bottom left of this area are two buttons: 'How it works' and 'Home'. Below the 'How it works' button is a small text box containing 'Lorem dolor sequiat via. Lorem ipsum dolor ipsum dolor.'

On the right side of the page is a 'Get Alerts' sidebar. It has a title 'Get Alerts' and a description: 'I want to receive up to the minute alerts on The Economist Debate Series.' Below this are two radio buttons: 'Yes' and 'No'. A note says 'Please click continue to update your settings.' At the bottom of the sidebar is a 'Continue' button. A callout box with the number '1' points to the 'Get Alerts' sidebar.

The footer contains a list of links: 'About Economist.com', 'About The Economist', 'Media Directory', 'Staff Books', 'Advertising info', 'Career opportunities', and 'Contact us'. Below the links is the text 'An Economist Group business Copyright © The Economist Newspaper Limited 2007. All rights reserved. Advertising Info | Legal disclaimer | Accessibility | Privacy policy | Terms & Conditions | Help'.

How to get here:

User selects 'continue' button from 1.0.1 Opt-In page

Concept/Purpose/Objective:

To provide confirmation of subscription or unsubscription from Debate series alerts.

URL:

Other outstanding URLs outstanding Robert Scurr

Technical Specifications:

ALL PAGES WITHIN SITE ONLY CONTAIN CONSTANT ECONOMIST.COM HEADER AND FOOTERS - NO LEFT NAVIGATION. THERE ARE NO ADVERTISEMENTS; THIS IS A SPONSORED MICROSITE.

ALL PAGES ARE DESIGNED FOR FULL PAGE AT 1024x768 RESOLUTION.

Buttons are graphics not HTML and have a separate rollover state. Peter Lasell to provide separate graphics.

Global Callouts (Right Column):

Thank you text. Continue button takes user back to main debate home 1.0

Note: Graphical elements, such as colors and button shapes, and pixel widths indicate functionality only and are not indicative of final branding choices.

NOTES

1 Subscription confirmation. Selecting continue takes users to 1.0 Home. If process is one of unsubscription, this section is replaced by area described in Note 2.

2 Unsubscription confirmation. Selecting continue takes users to 1.0 Home. Appears in same location as subscription confirmation.

The main content area is a large white rectangle with a diagonal line from the top-left to the bottom-right. It contains a 'Headline' and a '2-line Intro'. Below the intro is a block of placeholder text: 'Lorem dolor sequiat via. Lorem ipsum dolor ipsum dolor sequiat via. Lorem ipsum dolor via. Lorem ipsum dolor dolor sequiat via. Lorem ipsum dolor sequiat via. Lorem ipsum dolor via. Lorem ipsum dolor dolor sequiat via. Lorem ipsum dolor sequiat via.' At the bottom left of this area are two buttons: 'How it works' and 'Home'. The 'How it works' button has a small grey box below it containing the text 'Lorem dolor sequiat via. Lorem ipsum dolor ipsum dolor.'.

On the right side of the page is a sidebar with two 'Get Alerts' sections. The top section has a grey header and contains the text 'Thank you for subscribing to The Economist Debates alerts.' followed by a 'Continue' button. The bottom section also has a grey header and contains the text 'You have successfully unsubscribed from The Economist Debates alerts. Thanks again for your participation.' followed by a 'Continue' button. Callout '1' points to the top 'Get Alerts' section, and callout '2' points to the bottom 'Get Alerts' section.

At the bottom of the page is a light blue footer with links: 'About Economist.com | About The Economist | Media Directory | Staff Books | Advertising info | Career opportunities | Contact us'. Below this is a dark grey footer with the text 'An Economist Group business Copyright © The Economist Newspaper Limited 2007. All rights reserved. Advertising Info | Legal disclaimer | Accessibility | Privacy policy | Terms & Conditions | Help'.

Technical Specifications:

ALL PAGES WITHIN SITE ONLY CONTAIN CONSTANT ECONOMIST.COM HEADER AND FOOTERS - NO LEFT NAVIGATION. THERE ARE NO ADVERTISEMENTS; THIS IS A SPONSORED MICROSITE.

ALL PAGES ARE DESIGNED FOR FULL PAGE AT 1024x768 RESOLUTION.

Buttons are graphics not HTML and have a separate rollover state. Peter Lasell to provide separate graphics.

Rollover text should be implemented as DHTML with half-tone backgrounds that allow users to partially 'see through' to underlying graphics and/or text.

Global Callouts (Right Column):

Welcome Area, Voting Status. Add a Comment area. Photo area for Sponsor. Related Web Content. Dimensions of Right column is approximately 1/3 of page width.

Note: Graphical elements, such as colors and button shapes, and pixel widths indicate functionality only and are not indicative of final branding choices.

NOTES

- 1 Constant Economist.com header
- 2 Title area. Proposition is short summary text. Clicking 'more' opens up remainder full text directly underneath. Current Round text swaps out as each round progresses.
- 3 Welcome area. If user is not logged in and has Pen Name, displays 'welcome guest' version above. After successful login and Pen Name creation displays second welcome area below. Voting status starts as 'not yet voted' until user casts a vote, then this field changes to 'pro' or 'con' depending on vote. Users allowed to change or cast votes at any time.
- 4 Featured Speaker area. There may be more than one featured speaker at a time in which case there will be a separate box for each quest. More link goes to featured speakers bio page. Separate links takes users to Speaker's article and to user comment page for that speaker.
- 5 Current results box with percentages for pro and con the proposition. Changes in realtime as voting progresses.
- 6 Graphical representation of thumbs up / thumbs down. Relative sizes change in realtime as voting progresses to indicate which side is winning (larger size)
- 7 Vote Pro and Con buttons. Starts greyed out if user is guest. If greyed out has DHTML rollover prompting user to login if trying to use. Active if user is registered. Selecting each button records voting in voting tally total and changes user voting status to PRO or CON
- 8 Latest comments area. See Ajax wireframe on separate page for layout.
- 9 Add a comment widget. Starts with 'in order to participate' paragraph displayed and submit comment and view all buttons greyed out. User must be registered with pen name to place comment. Then when registered all buttons function. After hitting submit, text is replaced with 'thank you' paragraph.
- 10 Constant Sponsor area. Contains Intel Logo and headline and text with link.
- 11 Speaker PRO and CON and moderator boxes. Pic, title and short bio. First more goes to speakers' bio page. Under that is that speaker's statement for this round in short summary. Selecting more takes user to full article page. As debate progresses also contains links to previous opening statements, rebuttals and closings.
- 12 Constant Economist.com footer

The wireframe shows a page layout for a debate. At the top is the Economist.com header (1). Below it is a title area (2) with a proposition: "Proposition: Lorem ipsum dolor sequiat vita. Lorem ipsum ..." and "Current Round: Rebuttals". A central voting area (5) features "PRO HOUSE" and "CON HOUSE" sections. A "Current Result" box shows 90% for Pro and 10% for Con. Below this are thumbs up/down icons (6) and "Vote PRO" (7) and "Vote CON" buttons. A "Latest Comments" section (8) follows, with an "Add Comment" section (9) below it. To the right, there are sections for "The Economist Debate Series" (3), "Featured Participant" (4), and "Sponsor" (10). The footer (12) contains site navigation and copyright information.

How to get here:

User selects a pen name from any list of comments.

Concept/Purpose/Objective:

To provide Pluck functionality showing User's pen name and list of all comment to date for this debate.

URL:

Intel redirect is www.intel.com/educate
Other URLs outstanding Robert Scurr

Technical Specifications:

ALL PAGES WITHIN SITE ONLY CONTAIN CONSTANT ECONOMIST.COM HEADER AND FOOTERS – NO LEFT NAVIGATION. THERE ARE NO ADVERTISEMENTS; THIS IS A SPONSORED MICROSITE.

ALL PAGES ARE DESIGNED FOR FULL PAGE AT 1024x768 RESOLUTION.

Buttons are graphics not HTML and have a separate rollover state. Peter Lasell to provide separate graphics.

Rollover text should be implemented as DHTML with half-tone backgrounds that allow users to partially 'see through' to underlying graphics and/or text.

Global Callouts (Right Column):

Welcome Area, Voting Status. Add a Comment area. Photo area for Sponsor. Related Web Content. Dimensions of Right column is approximately 1/3 of page width.

Note: Graphical elements, such as colors and button shapes, and pixel widths indicate functionality only and are not indicative of final branding choices.

NOTES

- 1 Public Pen name.
- 2 All comments to date. Shows date stamp of when comment was published. Underlined link takes user back to debate hall.

I'm not going to repeat all that was said before. Just add my personal view of the question, I am a 21 year student who uses the internet everyday to help me fulfill doubts about history, math, etc. A matter of fact, I pretty much learn almost everything what I know about english language over the internet. So there you go. I vote CON!

How to get here:

Concept/Purpose/Objective:
To provide text informing about debate rules, Oxford style and debate schedule from inside debate hall. Keeps right hand callout areas as if still in debate hall.

Technical Specifications:
ALL PAGES WITHIN SITE ONLY CONTAIN CONSTANT ECONOMIST.COM HEADER AND FOOTERS – NO LEFT NAVIGATION. THERE ARE NO ADVERTISEMENTS; THIS IS A SPONSORED MICROSITE.

ALL PAGES ARE DESIGNED FOR FULL PAGE AT 1024x768 RESOLUTION.

Buttons are graphics not HTML and have a separate rollover state. Peter Lasell to provide separate graphics.

URL:
All outstanding URLs are responsibility Robert Scurr

Global Callouts (Right Column):

Note: Graphical elements, such as colors and button shapes, and pixel widths indicate functionality only and are not indicative of final branding choices.

NOTES

1 Title and text about rules of debates, debate schedule and history of Oxford style. See copy deck. Same as 2.1 except contains right hand callouts as if in debate hall. Back button takes user to debate hall
